

SINGAPORE

Did you know that calling out 'chope' in Singapore means making a reservation?

'Chope' is Singlish, our local language influenced by Singapore's multiculturalism, and if you place a packet of tissue (napkins) on one of the renowned hawker stall tables, it's yours to dine at. With us, you can 'chope' space on all ocean and air service providers and expect world-class service, too.

Don't worry; you don't need to speak Singlish or study the cultural differences of Singapore's melting pot. Your in or outbound logistics requests and needs we easily handle in 8 languages; English, Mandarin, Malay, Cantonese, Hokkien, Danish, Swedish, German; wherever and whenever you need trouble-free transportation, we are here to secure your cargo space.

Singapore is a nation of diversity and an all-embracing approach, and so are we. As your control tower team in Asia for the past six years, experience a cohesive network and an ad-hoc approach to problem-solving are at your disposal.

No matter if you need customs brokerage, air and ocean freight, fulfillment solutions, or industrial projects, we got it. Just 'chope' us.
