As Golden Week approaches in Greater China, we want to remind you of the upcoming holiday period.

From October 1 to October 7, 2024, many factories and companies in China will be closed or operating at reduced capacity due to the National Holiday. To avoid any potential disruptions to your supply chain, we strongly recommend planning and securing your bookings well in advance.

Additional holidays in China

- September 15 to 17 – Mid-Autumn Festival

Additional holidays in Hong Kong and Taiwan

Please also take note of the following holidays in Hong Kong and Taiwan:

Hong Kong

- September 18 - Mid-Autumn Festival
- October 1 - National Day
- October 11 - Chung Yeung Festival

Taiwan

- September 17 - Mid-Autumn Festival
- October 10 - National Day (Double Ten Day)

As these holidays affect production, warehouse operations, and transportation, it's important to consider them when planning your supply chain activities.

Rest assured, we are here to support you during this busy time and ensure that your goods reach their destination on schedule. We strongly suggest placing your bookings at least 14 days before your expected departure to ensure your supply chain stays intact.
