

NEW ZEALAND

Did you know
that albatrosses
can go years
without touching land?

Albatrosses are known to fly 49,700 miles without touching land. Its long and narrow wingspan is used to ride the ocean winds, rightfully naming them “nomads of the oceans.” Much like the albatross, we spend a lot of time in the air and on the oceans. But unlike the avid glider, we touch ground many times a day around the world to make sure your cargo reaches its destination on time.

New Zealand is known to be the first place on Earth to see the sunrise every day. From dusk till dawn, we manage every detail to ensure that your cargo takes flight, sets sails, and keeps moving, even when you sleep.

Like the albatross makes flying look so easy, we also leverage our extensive expertise and skills to uncomplicate your logistics. Regardless of your type of cargo or destination, we are ready to hit the ground running whenever you are.

From our offices in Auckland, Wellington, and Tauranga, we can provide you with tailormade, quality end-to-end solutions for general freight, perishables, and coastal services.
